"The Spirit of Truth"

Inconsistency has no part in the Will of God or the life of the believer. We live in a world where the truth doesn't matter very much, as a matter of fact most of us tell more lies than we do truth.

Truth in today's world has been pushed into the realm of the unimportant. But the Bible gives us different instructions. "Know the truth and the truth will set you free." I don't think the same can be said for untruths.

Our faith, our lives, our families and our nation were all built on truth. God hates lies and God hate liars. "Lying lips are an abomination unto God," Proverbs 12:22. Jesus did more teaching on truth than He did on the Kingdom of God.

Luke, the gospel writer said that the believer has a spirit of truth. That's good news because the human nature is prone to tell lies. God gives us the spirit of truth. The spirit of truth does not speak of itself, it leads us to a place where we meet God. Only in truth can we find Him. Christ is the one who guides us unto all truth.

John 16:13

"But when He, the spirit of truth, comes, He will guide you into all truth, He will not speak on its own, He will speak only what He hears and He will tell you what is to come."

Thought for Today

Today, I will make truth a priority. I will tell the truth no matter what happens.
The truth is always important.

Prayer For Today

*Dear Lord, Give me the courage to always tell the truth.
Help me to allow the spirit of truth to control me.
May the spirit help me understand the importance of the truth.
God, You are the truth; help me follow Your example.*

The Word of Today

"Sanctify them by the truth. Your word is truth."
John 17:17

Easter Prayer of Thanks

By Maureem Lefanue

God, thank You for the gift of Easter;
The Sacrifice of Your Son so treasured.
To save our souls through Your grace and mercy.
That by heaven alone can be measured.
Thank You for giving us hope;
The hope of life after the grave.
Winter dies and Spring comes to life—
The resurrection of the saved!
Your hand rules the universe
With great glory and power.
We give thanks for Your love for us,
And for every beautiful opening flower.
We thank You for the birds
That sing Your praises every morn,
And for the lofty mountains
That with Winter's snow You adorn.
Thank You for Friends and Family
And the blessings that they bring,
At this very special time -
Christ's resurrection and the grandeur of Spring!
Thank You for salvation
Made possible by Your Love.
Thank You that we have the hope of heaven -
Easter's promise from above.
May we all meet our Redeemer,
As You come for us in the air,
Because of Easter's hope of eternity,
And the privilege of Prayer!
AMEN

HEALTH & WELLNESS

April is National Sarcoidosis Awareness Month

Sarcoidosis

Sarcoidosis is a disease of unknown origin that causes the immune system to overreact, which can lead to health issues, including lung damage, skin rashes, and eye disease, and can affect other organs of the body. With good medical care, most cases of sarcoidosis are controlled and do not cause lasting damage to the body. However, it is crucial for people living with sarcoidosis to assess all of their options through an open dialogue with their physician.

Each case of sarcoidosis is unique, which makes it difficult to diagnose because symptoms vary and often mimic those of other diseases. While many patients do not experience serious health problems, 30 to 40 percent of people living with sarcoidosis have a persistent condition that may require personalized treatment. With good medical care, most cases of sarcoidosis are controlled and do not cause lasting damage to the body. However, it is crucial for people living with sarcoidosis to assess all of their options through an open dialogue with their physician.

Many people with pulmonary sarcoidosis think they have the flu or a respiratory infection before diagnosis. Although sarcoidosis can affect many organs, it most commonly affects the lungs. Symptoms can include cough, shortness of breath, chest pain, or wheezing. A chest X-ray of these symptoms can suggest pulmonary sarcoidosis and an appropriate referral to a pulmonary specialist may be necessary.

Treatments may include corticosteroids (which can relieve symptoms in most people within a few months), immune system suppressant medication (which can ease symptoms and prevent further organ damage) and, antimalarial medications (which can help patients with skin problems). People with severe or advanced lung sarcoidosis may need oxygen therapy. In a few cases, lung transplantation – the replacement of a diseased lung or lungs with a healthy donor lung – is used to treat severe lung sarcoidosis.

Small Money Habits to Pick Up in 2025

Good Money Habits to Practice Weekly

- ♥ Track Your Small Wins - you're already focusing on the small stuff, but it's beneficial to get even more micro. In addition to tracking your progress toward big savings and investing goals, be it a vacation or a down payment on a home, spot your small wins. By recognizing and celebrating weekly accomplishments that tend to go unnoticed - like checking your account balances every AM, or spending $0 on Tuesday - we boost our motivation and confidence.
- ♥ Buy the latte (or flowers, or ...) - small weekly expenses - like barista-brewed coffee, fresh flowers, the more expensive toilet paper, or a happy-hour cocktail - aren't getting in the way of your long-term financial success. The next time you need a pick-me-up, don't waste time feeling guilty about spending.

Good Money Habits to Practice Monthly

- ♥ Create a Budget - for a lot of people, "budget" is a loaded word. We like to think about it as less of a restriction, and more of a way to keep track of how much you have to spend on fun stuff. Review your budget each month to check that it's realistic and that you're staying on track. If you're not, don't be hard on yourself. Simply adjust it for the next month until you find a balance that works for you and the Future You.
- ♥ Build a Donation Habit - the holiday and tax season are great times to give back. But having a regular monthly giving schedule might work better for the causes you care about - and you.

Good Money Habits to Practice Quarterly

- ♥ Keep a Money Mindset Journal - a lot of work of achieving financial goals is mental, especially if you've been conditioned your whole life to believe that you're "bad with money." It's time you felt what it's like to take back your financial power. Get started by journaling a few times a year about your relationship with money, past and present.
- ♥ Check for Lifestyle Creep - when your expenses increase at the same rate as your income does, that means the amount you're saving and investing stays the same. So set quarterly financial health check-ins to keep you honest about lifestyle creep.

Good Money Habits to Practice Annually

- ♥ Review Your Core Values - your values are the core beliefs that are most important to you - the principles that bring meaning and purpose to your life. When you can use them to guide your financial decisions, you make more intentional choices. You also feel more aligned with the outcome in situations where you have to make a trade-off. As you evolve, your core values do, too. So take time once a year to reevaluate them. Have they stayed the same? Have they changed? If so, what new values are helping you spend intentionally (and invest intentionally, too)?
